Alexandrin Gusette.

SATURDAY RVENING OCT. 12 1901

Transmission of Sound. A striking example of the magical effects capable of being produced by any one conversant with the laws of sound was shown by the late Professor Tyndall in one of his lectures. He placed on the floor of the room an ordinary guitar. No one was near, and yet some unseen hand drew sweet music from it so that all could hear. The guitar was replaced by a harp, with the same result. A wooden tray was then substituted, and even from that

Issued mysterious harmonies.

The marvelous effect was simply due to the sound conducting quality of wood. In a room beneath and separated by Iwo floors was a plane, and connecting the rooms was a tin tube containing a deal rod, the end of which emerged from the floor. The rod was clasped by rubber bands so as to close the tube, and the lower end of the rod then rested on the sound board of the plano. As the guitar rested upon the upper end of the rod the sounds were reproduced from the plane, and when the sound board of the harp was placed on the rod it seemed as though the actual notes of the harp were heard, the notes of the piano being so like those of the harp.

As the professor said, "An uneducated person might well believe that witchcraft was used in the production of this music."-Chambers' Journal.

A Far Look.

Three visitors traveling in the Isle of Man thought they would visit Snae-fell, the king of Manx mountains. When walking up toward the moun-tian, they espied an old shepherd coming toward them. They thought they would take a rise out of him, so one accosted him, saying:

"They tell me, old man, you can see England, Scotland, Ireland and even as far as America from the top of this

"Oh, yes," said the old man. "If you will come with me, I will show you much further than America."

So, chuckling to themselves, they decided to follow him. After trudging for about half an hour up the moun tain side in a boiling sun they began to feel rather fagged and kept asking the shepherd how much further they had to go.

ther until at last the three visitors lay down on the grass and said they would go no further for any sight. "Now," said the old man, "if you will sit here long enough you will see

The Tanning Process.

The slowness of the process of tanning is largely due to the difficulty with which the tannin penetrates into the the outer part of the hide becomes converted into leather and is thereby made impervious; consequently the rate of penetration decreases. Months of soaking in the tan pit are therefore necessary for thick hides. Many attempts have been made to hasten this absorption of tannin by hide. The methods used include circulating the tan liquor so that fresh portions are continually presented to the hide, forcing the liquid through the hide by pressure and using strong aqueous extracts of tanning ma-

It has been sought to attain the same object by passing a current of electricity through the vat in which the hides are suspended. One such process has been found to shorten the time of tanning to a quarter of that necessary when no current is used, and the leather is said to be unexceptionable.-Electrical Review.

The Eskimos.

The old tradition that the Eskimos are a people of small stature is without foundation. On the contrary, in Labrador, Baffin Land and all around Hudson bay the height of the men is probably above rather than below the average of the human race; but, as a rule, the women, although very strong, are considerably shorter than the men. They are brave, industrious, provident and communicative, in all of which characteristics they contrast with the northern tribe of Indians.

A Wonderful Echo.

Many wonderful echoes are known, but the one which takes the first place seems to be that of the old palace of Simonetta, near Milan, which forms three sides of a quadrangle. The report of a pistol is said to be repeated by this echo 60 times, and Addison, who visited the place on a somewhat Duke.

A Corn Plaster.

A medical publication gives the fol-lowing formula for a corn plaster: Take of purified ammonia and yellow wax, each two ounces; acetate of copper, six drams; melt the two first together over the fire, and after removing from the fire add the verdigris just before it grows cold. Spread the mixture on soft leather or linen, pare away the corn and apply the plaster. Keep it on a fortnight and then renew

MEDICINAL. Digests what you Dyspepsia Cure

A powerful engine can't be run with a weak boiler; and you can't expect to keep up the wear and strain of an active life with a weak stomach. Our boilers, or rather our stomachs, can't be replaced, and we cannot stop the human machinery while making repairs. But when the stomach is unable to digest enough food to keep the body strong, we can use such a preparation as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you cat, so that you can eat all the good food you want, without any distress after eating. "After forty years of suffering from indigestion, a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cured me."—Amai Bell, Fredonia, Pa.
